

Dr. Lane Wimberly Joins TSRHC Orthopaedic Team

TSRHC is excited to welcome Dr. Lane Wimberly to the hospital's world-renowned orthopaedic staff.

Dr. Wimberly received his bachelor of arts from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and received his medical degree from Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. He completed his general surgery internship and his orthopaedic surgery residency at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, D.C. He completed the Dorothy and Bryant Edwards Fellowship in Pediatric Orthopaedics and Scoliosis at TSRHC in 2003.

Dr. Wimberly previously served as assistant professor in the Division of Orthopaedic Surgery and Sports Medicine and resident education director at Children's National Medical Center in Washington, D.C. He also served as assistant professor at The George Washington University Medical Center. He is a member of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, class of 2008, and a member of the Pediatric Orthopaedic Society of North America.

Dr. Wimberly brings with him a wealth of expertise and enthusiasm and will be a valuable addition to the hospital's exceptional orthopaedic team, as well as an important resource for the community's pediatric orthopaedic patients.
